

9TH OPEN FORUM, LISBON (PT) 2-5 NOV 2005

STAFFING AN IP PRACTICE

A PRACTICE PERSPECTIVE FROM EUROPE

Synopsis

Appropriate staffing levels and skills are needed for maintenance and control of our day-to-day work under high security standards in a profession characterized by meeting all kinds of deadlines and terms. Flexibility is a prerequisite, just as is a perfect and efficient organization of working processes. The speaker will focus on a practice perspective from a European viewpoint, concentrating on the assistants' day to day business but also including more general reflections. There will be consideration of the different types of employees in the IP profession, training possibilities and which requirements should be met in daily working life to accomplish, develop and enhance a flourishing working relationship.

3 November 2005

Geraldine v. Gagyi

Assistant to Helmut Sonn, Patent Attorney, Austria

SONN & PARTNER
SINCE 1851